A unique opportunity has become available for an urban grower interested in working with young people (16-25yrs old) with special educational needs to learn and work as part of their Practical Skills Therapeutic Education (PSTE) programme at Argent College in the Jewellery Quarter, Birmingham, operated by Ruskin Mill Trust.

We are looking for an enthusiastic, organised and motivated person with experience of running horticultural projects and working with people. Knowledge and experience of organic methods and an openness to the biodynamic approach is essential. Training in biodynamics will be provided through the Ruskin Mill Biodynamic Training.

The role offers a great opportunity to the right candidate;

- responsibility to manage and develop a unique urban rooftop micro farm - a green rooftop space in the centre of the Jewellery Quarter, Birmingham (3 days per week)
- working with students in a rural walled garden site close to Birmingham (2 days per week)
- developing social enterprise opportunities through the horticultural production
- teaching skills and sharing experience with students, biodynamic trainees and college staff
- to work as part of the Midlands team of biodynamic growers, farmers and land workers within Ruskin Mill Trust
- an interactive induction is provided with the opportunity to experience the craft and student experience.
